Example 1

Wellington Aerie #2051 opted for a simple-yet-effective one-page design. Right away, the bold two-color design draws the eye; potential donors can't help but notice it. Everything potential donors need to know—from pricing to contact information—is written clearly and concisely as well. This example proves that sometimes less is more when it comes to effective flyer design!

Example 4

Cameron Art Museum's flyer offers donors the option for either 3 lines of text, 6 lines of text, or a corporate logo. Displaying examples of each option gives donors an idea of what their specially engraved brick would look like; the more likely someone is to visualize their brick, the more likely it is that someone will actually want to sponsor one!

A one-page layout for a charity event flyer might appear cluttered if you have a lot to say to your audience. Instead, follow Fostering Change Early Learning Center's lead and opt for a sleek tri-fold format. This format gives you the freedom to detail your organization's fundraising goals and give potential donors extra information about their brick options—all without making the flyer seem crowded.

Our Vision

We are currently in the early planning stages of Fostering Change Early Learning Center and are reaching out to individuals, private businesses and corporations who are interested in helping us establish this facility. Fostering Change Early Learning Center is the first of its kind in the Tampa Bay area aimed specifically at helping foster children and those in need within the community.

this is a monumental long-term endeavor with a hefty financial investment required. We have secured the land needed for the initial project, we are in first stages of architectural planning for building the facility. Project resources will rely solely on donations from the community, both periodic as well as continued support from benefactors willing to make a substantial commitment with us to the future of children in need. Please support our brick fundraiser and be part of our mission and building forever.

Pathway to Change Brick Fundraiser

This building is the future site of the first ever nonprofit early learning center.
